

Code of Ethics

The Code of Ethics constitutes an important part of the Corporate Governance. Danubius Hotels Rt. is an internationally recognised hotel chain the success of which is due to colleagues highly qualified with a sense of vocation and guest centred corporate culture. The commitment of the colleagues contributes largely to the positive judgement of the company. The ability to adapt to the continuously changing environment is the base of the long-term success of the company to which ethical behaviour is a must.

The Hungarian Hotel Association realised the importance of this decades ago and established and constantly up-dates the Code of Ethics related to the participants of Hungarian tourism, which our company considers binding upon itself.

The Code of Ethics of the Hungarian Hotel Association sums up the behaviour forms to be followed, principles of ethics, which are to be observed by every colleague in the course of contact with each other, with the guests, business partners, the owners and the media. See at: www.hah.hu

The company considers the Code of Ethics of the Hungarian Hotel Association binding for itself and necessary detailed regulations are in place in our hotels.