A woman with long blonde hair, wearing a white wide-brimmed hat, dark sunglasses, and a white short-sleeved top, is sitting on a rooftop terrace. She is smiling and looking towards the left. The terrace has a glass railing, and in the background, a cityscape is visible under a blue sky with white clouds. A blue square graphic with the text 'Local is beautiful' is in the top left corner.

Today, in a world dominated by global brands, local specialities have greater value than ever before. Local cultures, tastes, moods – even local architectural styles – have gained in significance.

At Danubius Hotels, we believe local flavour to be a thing of unique value.

What makes an impression is what is different. What is local. What we cannot experience anywhere else. That is why we spotlight things that are authentic or special.
